

ADRIAN JAZWIECKI FATE MATH TEACHER

Adrian Jazwiecki Fate was raised in Monclova and attended Anthony Wayne High School. She went on to attend Hillsdale College and studied Education as well as Biology and Mathematics. Mrs. Fate graduated with a Bachelors of Science in Mathematics. It was her time spent at Hillsdale College that sparked her enthusiasm for a classical education.

Mrs. Fate has eleven years of teaching experience in high school mathematics. In 2016, Mrs. Fate left the classroom to tend to her family's needs. During this time, she was evaluating the educational options for her children and made the decision to homeschool. In their first year of homeschooling, NOCA became the option for which Mrs. Fate was searching. She is thrilled that the Toledo area now has a classical school and is equally excited to be part of NOCA's founding faculty as the Middle School Math teacher. She greatly enjoys being in the classroom and strives to encourage her students to make connections and see Mathematics in their everyday lives.

Mrs. Fate has also coached girls basketball at both the high school and elementary levels. She enjoys teaching the fundamental skills of the sport and watching the improvement over time.

Mrs. Fate currently lives in Monclova with her husband, Dustin, and their three young children. Her oldest will attend NOCA this fall. She enjoys road trips and camping with her family in Michigan. One of their favorite camping locations is on the shore of Lake Superior. When not traveling, you can often find Mrs. Fate out on a bicycle ride through the rural roads of our local area. She often participates in group rides and has ambitions of taking her family bicycle touring when her children are older.
